DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 3 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Mah et al. (US 6,757,916). Mah et al. (hereinafter Mah) discloses a coverall (10) including an upper section configured to enclose the upper torso and arms and a lower section that is configured to enclose the lower torso and legs as shown in figure 1. Further, it is inherent that the upper and lower sections are fabricated from a breathable and flexible low stretch fabric, col. 5, lines 64-67.

Response to Amendment

3. The arguments and amendment filed on December 19, 2005 has been considered. In view of such, the amendment has necessitated this office action to be made FINAL based on newly discovered art and the arguments are moot.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 1 and its respective dependents are allowable since the prior art does not teach or suggest the recitation therein including a coverall having upper and lower sections with an undergarment defining an inner tight fitting sleeve forming a pressure chamber between a loose outer sheath that introduces pressurized fluid by a conduit means through an opening of the coverall.

Conclusion

5. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
